What to expect for you and your patient

Your patient will receive a result letter delivered via Canada Post following their screening mammogram. If they require additional imaging, our office will contact the patient directly to make those arrangements. Diagnostic mammogram and additional imaging results are typically discussed with the patient at the time of that appointment. Your office will receive faxed results usually between 3-4 business days. Patients with an extensive commute (over an hour) to our clinics will usually receive their results prior to leaving the clinic.

Screening vs. Diagnostic

Refer for a Screening Mammogram when there are no concerns and a Diagnostic Mammogram if there are concerns (i.e. lump present).
